Note 7: LICENSES
 Licenses for Steam Engineers and Operators of Steam Boilers or Steam Generators shall conform to the following:

1. Type of Licenses

- a. A license may be issued for the operation of steam boiler(s) or steam-generating apparatus under the following conditions:
 - (i) Limited License: The 35-Horsepower Boiler Operator license shall only apply to equipment on the single premises shown on the license. Such license is not transferrable to another location or address.
 - (ii) Equipment Capacity. The equipment or steam boiler to be operated by the 35-Horsepower Boiler Operator shall be rated at 35 horsepower or less.
 - (iii) Licensee. The 35-Horsepower Boiler Operator license shall only be issued to the owner of the equipment or to the owner's designee.
 - (iv) Operator. The operator shall have passed the appropriate examination.
- b. (1) For 500 horsepower or Smaller Equipment. A limited 500-HP Steam Engineer license may be issued for operation of steam boiler(s) or steam-generating apparatus rated at not more than 500 horsepower to a person that has passed the appropriate examination.

2. Ratings

The rating of boilers and steam-generating apparatus shall be the total of the horsepower ratings (as determined below) of all such equipment connected to a common steam header.

- a. All Fuels except Natural Gas. The horsepower rating for equipment using fuels other than gas shall be determined by the following formula (except as allowed in Paragraph (c) below):

$$\text{Horsepower Rating} = \frac{\text{Rated Fuel Input in British thermal units per hr. (Btu/hr)}}{90,000}$$

- b. Natural Gas.
 The horsepower rating for equipment burning natural gas shall be determined by the following formula (except as allowed in Paragraph (c) below):

$$\text{Horsepower Rating} = \frac{\text{Rated Gas Input in cubic feet per hour (cfh)}}{84}$$

- c. Alternate Method.
 When requested by the owners of the equipment, the horsepower rating shall be determined by the following formula instead of as shown in Paragraph (a) or (b) above:

$$\text{Horsepower Rating} = \frac{\text{Weight of water that would be evaporated at a temperature of 212 °F and a pressure of 14.7 psi (in pounds per hour) at Rated Fuel Input}}{34}$$
